Cuomo Says APPR Scores Not Real:

In a statement yesterday Governor Cuomo said teachers' high scores under the state's mandatory performance rating system show that it is "an evaluation system in name" and "doesn't reflect reality," and will seek new, more stringent standards.

Governor Reneges on APPR Safety Net:

Cuomo says he won't sign the bill he negotiated and introduced that would create a "safety net" for educators whose evaluations were detrimentally affected by the rough rollout of the Common Core standards.
